

Clockwise from right:
Pineapple; Tomato;
Grapefruit; Watermelon;
Chili Pepper; Passion
Fruit. All made
with fabric, thread,
watercolour paper, 2018

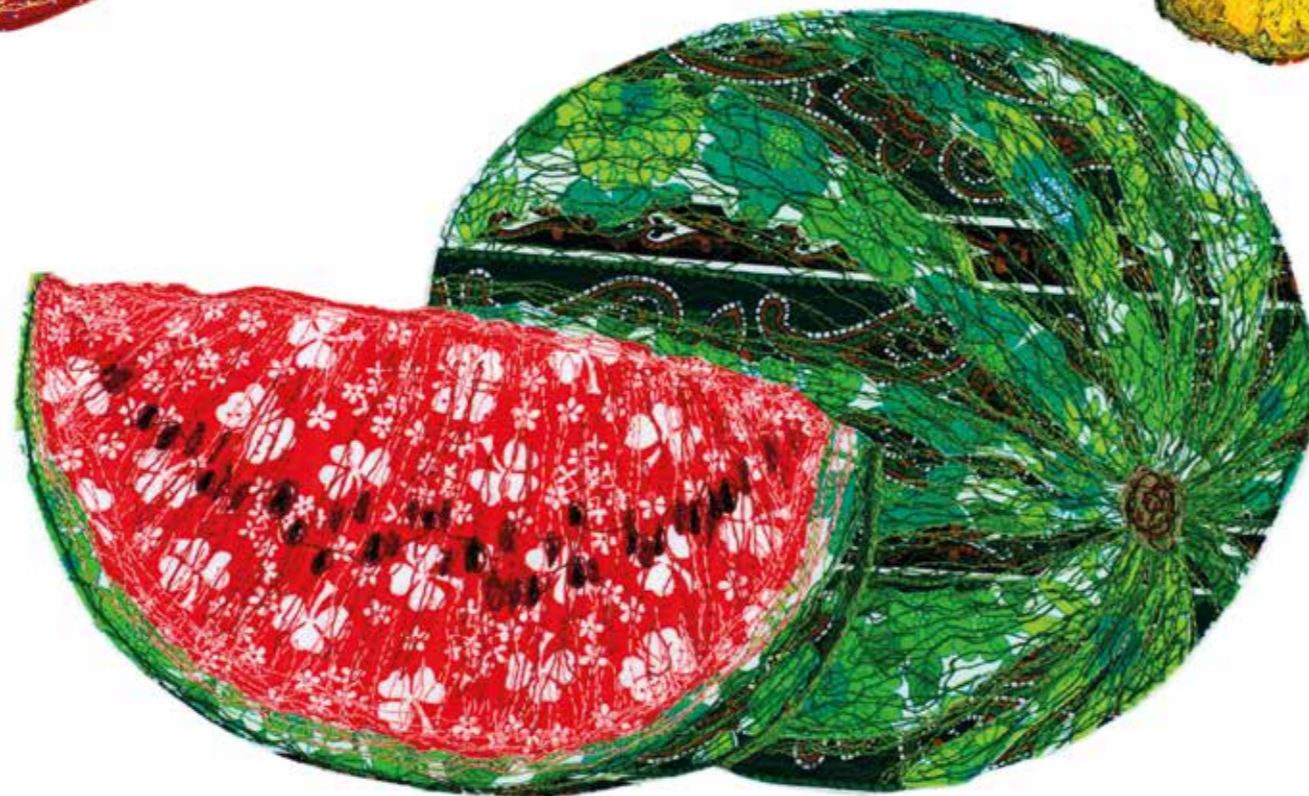

POP-UP GALLERY

An exhibition in miniature of Rebecca Bruton's delectable work

I'm a textile artist from Somerset that specialises in free motion embroidery and appliqué to create intricate artwork. My passion for textiles was sparked by my grandmother's magical treasure trove of fabrics and haberdashery. I am passionate about vintage textiles and prints and use these within my work, many of which are ones I've inherited from my grandmother's collection. It took me a long time to actually cut these precious fabrics and prints initially, but I'm so happy to use them in a way that immortalises them and their memories and stories into my artworks.

I created my first collection of textile artwork for exhibition in my local hospital. Twelve bold and vibrant fruits and vegetables lined the corridors of an out-patients waiting room, bringing joyful colour to the clinical setting and a talking point around the joys of healthy eating and nutrition. Each artwork was accompanied by a playful label stating the 'nutritional value' of the art! The collection has since been in several exhibitions including my show as 'Somerset Art Works-Emerging Artist of 2018' at ACEarts gallery in Somerset and at The Contemporary Textiles Fayre at The Landmark Arts Centre in London. ©

Instagram: @rebeccabruton_ for my work as an artist and Instagram: @rebeccabrutontextiles for my small business.
www.rebeccabruton.co.uk